

Getting around this Easter weekend

TfL is reminding customers to check online before they travel this Easter bank holiday.

MOST of the transport network is operating this weekend however TfL is using the quieter Easter period to carry out essential improvement work. The Victoria line will be closed on Easter Sunday and Monday, however replacement buses will be running. Upgrade works will also affect the Circle, District, Hammersmith & City and Metropolitan lines all weekend. Trains will not be running from Aldgate East to West Ham (District line), Liverpool Street to Barking (Hammersmith & City line), and there will be no service from Wembley Park to Uxbridge and Northwood (Metropolitan line). Although the Circle line will be partly closed (there is no service between Edgware Road and Hammersmith, Friday to Monday), stations will remain open as they will be served by other lines. Whitechapel (District and Hammersmith & City lines) and Lancaster Gate (Central line) stations will be closed throughout the Easter weekend. An alternative way to get around this Easter is by bus. There will be a Saturday service on Good Friday and a Sunday service on Easter Monday, however buses will be running as usual at all other times. There will be other closures and service changes on London Overground, trams, DLR, TfL Rail, National Rail, Dial-a-Ride and river services. There will also be some road closures, particularly affecting Wellesley Road in Croydon. ■ For full details and to help plan your journey, visit tfl.gov.uk/easter-travel

London. Opened up by boat

Let the river guide you to the Capital's famous landmarks.
For Oyster pay as you go, and Travelcard discounts search TfL River

MAYOR OF LONDON

Planning a trip to the Army Museum?

THE National Army Museum in Chelsea has reopened its doors to the public following a three-year redevelopment project. Free to visit, the museum boasts five galleries laid out over four floors, a 500sq m temporary exhibition space, a learning centre, a café and a play area, where children under seven can learn through fun activities.

The best way to get to the museum is by public transport. Sloane Square Tube station (Circle and District lines) is a ten-minute walk away, Victoria Rail and Tube stations (Circle, District and Victoria lines) are a 20-minute walk and the 170 bus stops right outside.

■ Plan your journey at tfl.gov.uk #Londonisopen

Picture: National Army Museum

Turn over a new leaf

DISCOVER more about transport in the capital in the latest collection of books on sale at the London Transport Museum shop. The new additions include fascinating books about individual Tube lines, bus and train routes, histories of steam trains around the UK, transport designs that have shaped the city and a glossy hardback of some of the museum's iconic transport posters and designs going back through the years.

For younger readers, there's a selection of classic picture books, stories about transport and characters such as Bradley the Bus and Rodney the Routemaster. Browse the London Transport Museum Shop online and find gifts for all the family, from veteran transport enthusiasts to junior bus and train fans.

■ See all the books on sale at ltmuseumshop.co.uk/books

For more articles and to keep up to date with TfL announcements, visit tfl.gov.uk/news

London travel advice: plan your journey now

tfl.gov.uk

24 hour travel information
0343 222 1234*

Sign up for email updates
tfl.gov.uk/emailupdates

tfl.gov.uk/socialmedia

London Travelwatch
London's transport watchdog
call 020 3176 2999, or visit www.londontravelwatch.org.uk

*Service and network charges apply.
See tfl.gov.uk/terms for details.

Newspapers left on the Tube can jam doors and cause delays to your journey. Take your newspaper with you or put it in a recycling bin.

The views expressed are those of TfL only and are not those of Metro.