What's on this weekend

THIS weekend, why not try one of these fun activities to keep you amused?

OH, WHAT A SHOW!

Showstoppers is the latest offering from The Theatre Channel, where the best in live theatre can be enjoyed from the comfort of your own home. This revue of much-loved musical classics is streaming from today, and features performances from major West End stars from the biggest shows including Heathers: The Musical, Hamilton, Les Misérables, Waitress and Kinky Boots.

Tickets are £12 plus booking fee. For details, visit www.thetheatrechannel.stream

GO TO GREENWICH

Explore the beautiful grounds and discover the rich history of the Old Royal Naval College at Greenwich by taking a tour.

There are two options on how to plan your day out. For those who want to dig into lots of fascinating detail, choose a guided tour provided by knowledgeable volunteers.

Visitors can also download three free self-guided tours on the Smartify app, including the Building Detectives tour for children aged five to 12 years old, and one that explores the architectural history of the magnificent building.

Ready when you are

AS more customers return to the transport network, TfL is reminding people of the latest advice to stay safe while travelling.

A near-normal service continues to run across the network, and customers are encouraged to travel during the quieter times to help make social distancing easier. These are between 8.15am and 4pm and after 5.30pm in the week, and before midday and after 6pm at weekends. The latest information is available online and through the TfL Go app.

Hospital-grade cleaning substances are being used across the network, and independent testing has been carried out monthly, with no traces of coronavirus being found. More than 1,000 free hand sanitising points are available to customers, and 200 UV light devices are continually sanitising escalator handrails.

TfL's enforcement officers and the police are enforcing the requirement for everyone to wear a face covering over their nose and mouth while in a station or travelling on public transport, unless they are exempt.
