Bus proposals for Silvertown

LONDONERS are encouraged to share their views on proposals for a bus network for the Silvertown Tunnel, which is due to open in 2025.

TfL is consulting on a number of proposals for the bus network in the area, including introducing a new high-frequency, limited-stop service between Grove Park and Canary Wharf. This service would provisionally be named Route X239.

There are proposals for an extension to route 129 between Lewisham and North Greenwich across the river to Great Eastern Quay via the Royal Docks development zone. People are being asked for their views on three route options for both the X239 and 129 bus routes.

TfL is also proposing to make a minor change to route 108 so that it uses the new Millennium Way slip road when exiting the Blackwall Tunnel southbound, enabling it to reach North Greenwich station faster.

The new network will help to connect people on the north and south of the Thames and provide access to jobs, education and leisure opportunities. It will support regeneration in south and east London, and encourage more trips in the area to be made by public transport.

The consultation is open until January 11 2023. For more detailed information and to have your say on the proposals, visit tfl.gov.uk/silvertown-tunnel-buses
