

Top transport toys

KEEP the children entertained for hours with one of these travel-related toys from the London Transport Museum.

London Transport selfie colour-in top

£14.99

Little ones can get arty with long-sleeved, colour-in tops (far right). Each t-shirt comes with six fabric pens and a practice sheet. Available in sizes 2-10.

The zoo kids jigsaw

We love this beautiful 300-piece jigsaw puzzle featuring Henry Perry's The Zoo (left). Perry designed posters for London Transport between 1928 and 1937.

King's Cross St. Pancras train set

£49.99

This extendable train set features toy replicas of King's Cross station and St. Pancras station. Additional trains are available (below).

■ All toys are available from the London Transport Museum shop in Covent Garden or ltmuseumshop.co.uk

Reporting anything unusual won't hurt you

If you see any unattended items or suspicious activity, report it to a member of staff or the police immediately. For your safety and security, CCTV is in use across the network.

MAYOR OF LONDON

Summer family fun at the museum

HERE are some more activities to keep the children happy over the holidays.

Transport detectives

Until August 11

It's all action when youngsters embark on the trail to track down the lost property of London. They have up to an hour to find weird and wonderful items in a pop-up treasure trove at the museum.

Plus, there's story-time. Hear about a mysterious object that has turned up at the lost property office and nobody knows what it is or where it's come from.

London's transport detective is brought in to help.

Other activities

For young children, there's also the museum's All Aboard play zone where they can dress up and play conductor on a real bus, repair a mini Tube train with toy spanners, and work in the Lost Property Office.

Free Treat

Children can enjoy a treat with lunch to top off their visit to the museum. With a child's main meal and a cold drink for £6, they get a free ice cream or cupcake. Plus they can also add their own toppings, too, by visiting the frozen yoghurt station in the Lower Deck café.

■ London Transport Museum's Family Fun programme of events runs until September 3. Admission is free for children under 18 and adult tickets are £16 (£17.50 on the door) and allow unlimited daytime entry for one year. To book, visit ltmuseum.co.uk
