

Plan ahead for the strike

Helping hand: Travel Ambassadors will offer information and advice to customers

TRAVEL ADVICE FOR PASSENGERS ON JUBILEE LINE

PLANNED strike action by the ASLEF and RMT unions tomorrow will impact customers who travel on the Jubilee line.

If the strike goes ahead, there will be no service on the Jubilee line all day. All other TfL services will run as normal.

Customers are advised to use alternative routes where possible and allow more time than usual to complete their journeys.

TfL Travel Ambassadors will be at key locations to provide travel information and advice to help customers.

The strike that was scheduled to take place on the District line has been suspended.

CHECK BEFORE YOU TRAVEL

Up-to-date service information will be available on the TfL website at tfl.gov.uk/tube-strike

You can also get all the latest information on Twitter by following @TfLTravelAlerts and @Jubileeline

Jubilee line: Check before you travel

DON'T forget you can also have a chat with TfL's TravelBot on Facebook Messenger. The social media tool can instantly provide:

- Updates for the Tube, TfL Rail, London Overground, DLR and London Trams
- Live bus arrival information and bus route status
- Tube, Night Tube and rail maps

To get involved, search for 'TfL TravelBot' on Facebook.

Checking your ReTweets?

Check your travel

See if your latest witticism has been ReTweeted by a celeb. Or just by your mum. Then check your journey on public transport and roads.

Search TfL Check your travel

Changes at Bank

IT is now easier and faster for passengers to leave Bank station during the morning rush hour.

On weekdays, the escalators serving the Bank station end of the Northern and DLR platforms now run upwards only between the times of 7.30am and 10am.

This reduces the queues as customers exit the platforms and also cuts the journey time for commuters. Anyone wishing to access these platforms can do so via the stairs, or by using the lifts from the Northern line ticket hall.

Step-free access to and from the DLR platforms is available as usual via the lift in King William Street.

That's the ticket!

RAILWAY enthusiast Dean Curtis is collecting old rail tickets to cement his place in the Guinness Book of Records as the holder of the most used rail tickets.

Dean's efforts were given a boost recently when staff at Bond Street station donated 4,000 tickets, bringing his total to 178,810.

London Underground staff from Uxbridge, Bond Street, Waterloo and London Bridge stations are also helping out by keeping tickets for him.

Dean claims he is 15,575 ahead of his nearest rival – a collector in Germany – and is just waiting for an inspector from the famous world record organisation to visit his Uxbridge home to verify the count and his title.

He said: 'Railways are my thing and I just love everything about them. The Tube is my favourite and station staff have always been very good about helping me boost my collection. I've got all my tickets counted and categorised too.'

Tickets please: Dean Curtis with some of his collection

For more articles and to keep up to date with TfL announcements, visit tfl.gov.uk/news

London travel advice: plan your journey now

 tfl.gov.uk

 24 hour travel information
0343 222 1234***

 Sign up for email updates
tfl.gov.uk/emailupdates

   tfl.gov.uk/socialmedia

London Travelwatch
London's transport watchdog
call 020 3176 2999, or visit www.londontravelwatch.org.uk

*Service and network charges apply. See tfl.gov.uk/terms for details.

 Newspapers left on the Tube can jam doors and cause delays to your journey. Take your newspaper with you or put it in a recycling bin.