

Celebrate a century of festive art

London Transport Museum is the perfect place to add some colour to your Christmas.

LOOKING for the perfect pressie? These vintage prints, exclusive to the museum's online shop, would make a great gift for art and transport enthusiasts.

The posters offer a snapshot of more than 100 years of seasonal artwork on the capital's transport network. From smiling Santas to retro robins – there's something for everyone.

We feature some of the prints here but to see the whole collection, visit ltmuseumshop.co.uk.

Posters start from £14.99 and are available to buy in a range of sizes. Frames are an optional extra.

Poster parade

Head to the museum in Covent Garden to see more posters. Their latest display 'Festive Fun' features prints from the museum's collection that celebrate Christmas and invite viewers to embrace the season, whether by going ice-skating, taking a winter walk or shopping for presents.

They have a practical purpose too, encouraging passengers to travel off-peak and reminding us that it's quicker, easier and warmer to travel by bus or Tube.

The exhibition is open to all ticket holders until January 12, 2018. Entry costs £17.50 for adults (£15 for concessions) and allows unlimited trips for a year. Save by booking tickets online at the reduced price of £16 (£13.50 concessions).

TfL consultations

Have your say

TfL is consulting on the following proposals:

Rotherhithe to Canary Wharf Closes January 8, 2018

TfL is proposing a new river crossing between Rotherhithe and Canary Wharf. It would provide a safe and direct route for pedestrians and cyclists, reduce journey times and encourage more active travel for the growing communities on both sides of the river.

Oxford Street Closes December 17, 2017

Comment on plans to transform Oxford Street and the areas nearby into one of the world's best outdoor shopping experiences and an unrivalled place to live, work and visit.
