PLANNED strike action by the ASLEF and RMT unions tomorrow could impact Jubilee line customers.

If the strike goes ahead, there will be no service on the Jubilee line all day. All other TfL services will run as normal.

Customers are advised to use alternative routes where possible and allow more time than usual to complete their journeys.

TfL Travel Ambassadors will be at key locations to provide travel information and advice.

London Underground's director of network operations, Nigel Holness, said: 'The action is completely unnecessary and will only cause disruption for customers, for which I apologise.'

'The new Jubilee line timetable is already benefitting thousands of Londoners every day and I call on the unions to continue working with us to deliver a good service to our customers and to call off this unjustified strike action.'

Here to help

DON'T forget you can also have a chat with TfL's TravelBot on Facebook Messenger. The social media tool, which is powered by artificial intelligence, can 'chat' with customers using Messenger and, on request, can instantly provide:

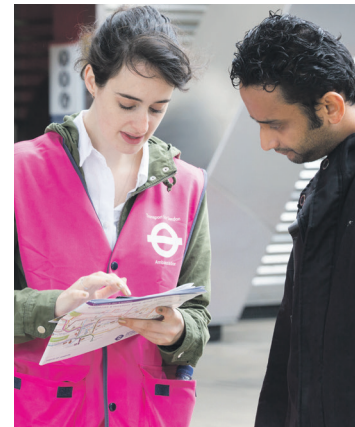

- Updates for the Tube, TfL Rail, London Overground, DLR and London Trams
- Live bus arrival information and bus route status
- Tube, Night Tube and rail maps

TravelBot can also link directly to a customer service agent. Search for 'TfL TravelBot' on Facebook.

Traffic information for the capital

FOR A FULL LIST OF TRAFFIC INFORMATION, GO TO TFL.GOV.UK/TRAFFICNEWS

Broad Sanctuary Until July 21

The road will be closed westbound at the junction with Parliament Square until July 2, owing to works by Westminster City Council. From July 2 until July 21, the road will be open, but there will be some lane restrictions in place.

The Kia Oval Today, midday until 10pm

The Oval will host the England v Australia ODI cricket match, starting at 1pm. Expect increased levels of traffic and pedestrians, especially after the match.

Wembley Stadium Tomorrow, 3.30pm until midnight, Sunday

The stadium will host four Ed Sheeran concerts, with gates opening at 5pm from tomorrow until Saturday and at 4.30pm on Sunday. The area is expected to be very busy, with higher than usual levels of traffic and pedestrians. Roads likely to be affected are the A406, A1, A40, Harrow Road, Wembley High Road and roads around the stadium.

South-west London area Sunday, 5am until 11.45am

There will be extensive road closures in place and large numbers of cyclists in the area for the annual London to Brighton cycle ride. Roads affected include Burntwood Lane, Beechcroft Road, Alderbrook Road, Clapham Common West Side, Nightingale Lane, Nightingale Walk, Sumburgh Road and Thurleigh Road. There will also be road closures in the Carshalton and Banstead areas for safety reasons and short traffic holds along the route.

Twickenham Stadium Tuesday June 19, 2pm until midnight

The stadium will host a Rolling Stones concert. Large pedestrian numbers are expected in the Twickenham area, with high levels of traffic. London Road, Whitton Road and Rugby Road will be closed before and after the concert and diversions will be in place in the area.
