Three weeks to go until the launch of the Night Tube

THE first services on the Victoria and Central lines will begin on August 19, with services on the Jubilee, Northern and Piccadilly lines following in the autumn. The Night Tube will offer a 24-hour service on Fridays and Saturdays.

Changes to the Northern line

NORTHERN line services will operate differently next week while work takes place on the track.

Between Monday and Friday, northbound Bank branch services will only go towards Edgware and northbound Charing Cross branch services will only go towards High Barnet/Mill Hill East.

Camden Town station will be exit only between 4pm and 7pm and some trains may not stop at the station to prevent overcrowding. Southbound services will run as normal.

Customers are advised to plan ahead and start their journey on the correct branch.

Plan for London cycling events

ROADS will close across the capital this weekend as thousands of riders and spectators arrive in the city for the Prudential RideLondon cycling festival.

There will be extensive closures along the routes from early morning, many buses will be on diversion and a number of bridges will be closed at times, too. Roads will reopen when it is safe to do so.

Drivers are advised that Birdcage Walk, Horse Guards Road, Spur Road, and The Mall will be closed from 7am today (Friday) until 6am on Monday.

People not attending the events are urged to check their routes before they travel and expect Tube stations to be busier than usual.

Reduced escalator service at Moorgate

PASSENGERS using the Northern line at Moorgate station, having entered the station or changed from other Tube lines, will need to use a spiral staircase from Monday when maintenance work starts on the escalators.

The maintenance repairs are expected to continue on the first escalator until mid-September. Work on the second escalator will be carried out between November and mid-December.

While the work takes place, the remaining operating escalator will run in the upwards direction only.
