What's on and how to get there

IF you're planning to go to any of these big events this weekend, see below for your nearest stations.

Television Centre food festival

Head down to the BBC's former home in White City for a three-day food extravaganza. Free to attend, the festival features interactive workshops, pop-up food stalls and a live performance by the BBC Concert Orchestra.

Nearest stations: White City (Central line) or Wood Lane (Circle and Hammersmith & City lines).

Games Character Parade

Watch hundreds of gaming icons come to life as this colourful parade takes to the streets of London on Saturday. The familiar characters will set off from Guildhall Yard at 12.30pm, before making their way to Paternoster Square. There will also be a family activity zone in Guildhall Yard.

Nearest stations: Guildhall Yard is about four minutes from Bank (Central, Northern and Waterloo & City lines), five minutes from Moorgate (Northern line), and six minutes from St Paul's (Central line) and Mansion House (Circle and District lines).

The National Wedding Show

The UK's biggest wedding show is once again at ExCel Arena, with hundreds of industry experts offering advice to brides and grooms-to-be.

Nearest station: Exit at Prince Regent station (DLR) for the ExCel Arena east entrance. You can also travel to the ExCel on the Emirates Air Line from North Greenwich Tube or Pier.

Game for a laugh: Iconic characters from video games will parade through the capital on Saturday

Advice for passengers using the District line

THERE is a reduced service on the District line today owing to a strike by ASLEF trade union members.

There will be delays on the District line throughout the day, so customers should allow more time to complete journeys or change to a different line if possible. All other Tube lines are running as normal. District line services are expected to return to normal tomorrow morning.

There are no services to Kensington (Olympia), however London Overground and Southern services are calling at the station as usual. Travel Ambassadors will be at key locations to provide information and advice. Live update feeds are available on Twitter: @TfLTravelAlerts and @Districtline, and there is also a TFL Travelbot on Facebook messenger.
